AMERICA'S ELECTRIC COOPERATIVES

TAKING ACTION

ACRE Co-op Owners for Political Action®

It's a fact, whether we like it or not, decisions made in Washington, D.C. and at our state capitals impact how much we pay for electricity. That's why it is so important to elect and re-elect people who understand the concerns of America's Electric Cooperatives. And, that's where ACRE Co-op Owners for Political Action comes in.

ACRE® Co-op Owners for Political Action is part of the federal Political Action Committee (PAC) of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, and is backed by more than 36,000 eligible electric cooperative employees, managers, and consumer-owners, like you, across the country. It is truly a grassroots movement powered by thousands of contributors giving $2.08 a month, or about the cost of a cup of coffee.

ACRE® Co-op Owners for Political Action unites consumer-owners because it brings together people with common goals and interests but living in different states to financially support the best candidates running for federal office.

Your electric cooperative's ability to serve you and your community depends, in part, on electing and re-electing the right people into office.

“The main reason I became a member of ACRE is that I want to have a voice. My opinion should matter and ACRE gives me an opportunity to make my voice heard.”

*- Darryl Williams,
Roanoke Electric Cooperative*
